Description of the activity:

This activity seeks to analyse the evolution of the security concept to present and to identify new models of security. The aim is to finding solutions to make security more sustainable and more comprehensive.

To achieve this goal, CITpax and the Spanish Institute of Strategic Studies have coordinated a research work which will be published soon. Its findings and conclusions will be presented in this seminar.

Additionally, the seminar will encourage further debate by counting with presentations by speakers from civil society organisations and intergovernmental agencies, who will share their views on the 21st century challenges to internal and international security.

This activity seeks to reinforce the Ministry of Defences' work of bringing the Spanish defence and security culture closer to its citizens as well as the work of its Armed Forces abroad.
